JACKSON, MISS. — Compiled records showed less than 25 percent of the registered voters in Mississippi turned out last week to vote in the Congressional Democratic primary.

Records compiled Tuesday by the State Democratic Executive Committee showed only 13,477 voters balloted.

In the Senate race, incumbent John C. Stennis won 175,444 to 4,703 for his only opponent, Mrs. Victoria Jackson Gray, a Hattiesburg Negro.

In the major contest of the day, Rep. William M. Colmer of Pascagoula, whipped Edward A. Mayall, Colmer had 30,308, Mayall a Jackson County supervisor from Moss Point had 15,879.

Also seeking unsuccessfully the seat held by Colmer were Attorney Ben Walley of Leakeville, 24,466 and the Rev. John Cameron a Hattiesburg Negro, 883.

In the Fourth District, Rep. Arthur Winstead defeated Tom Dunn, a Meridian attorney, and J. O. Hollis, a Carthage attorney. Winstead had 18,886, Dunn 5,836 and Hollis 5,819.

In the Third District, Rep. John Bell Williams of Raymond, beat Negro J. M. Houston of Vicksburg, 37,701 to 1,259.

SCHOOL PLAN IS STUDIED
JACKSON, MISS. — The Mississippi Education Study Committee charged with producing legislation to cope with court-ordered school desegregation, devoted its first session to organization.

Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, presiding in the absence of Gov. Paul Johnson, said it was important for the study group to get down to business to be ready for a special session which meets in one week.

Gartin said he had received groups who asked to appear before the committee and present views which may assist the committee in legislative action.

He told newsmen the groups were from Coahoma, LeFlore, and Tunica counties and the city of Jackson.

He set a special meeting at 2 p. m. Wednesday to hear from those groups and exchange ideas with them.

Gartin told the group "time is of the essence." We have been given 30 days to submit a course of action, but we really have only four working days until the legislature returns for the special session.

COURT DECISION
Committee members commented on the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision which ordered schools in Prince Edward County, Virginia to reopen after refusing to accept Negro students.

"We want to assure the people of Mississippi that we are not trying to abolish the school system we are merely trying to give each student a choice what school he would like to attend," Gartin said.

House Speaker Walter Sillers of Bolivar, questioned "if it were possible to provide grant-in-aid to students from the present legislative appropriation?"

Superintendent of Education Jack Tubb said he felt it might force a change in the present teacher salary schedule.

Tubb pointed out that teachers' contracts are made in spring and if the following year a teacher lost all his students to a private system, "we might be getting into a legal question."

Rep. Jimmy Morrow of Rankin pointed out that this was the purpose of the committee, to iron out these problems.

Rep. Walter Phillips of Bay St. Louis told Supt. Tubb that he felt some arrangement could be worked out, that teachers who are under contract and suffered a big loss of their students to a private school could be compensated for a brief time by local officials.

But he said he was just entertaining the idea and not recommending any policy.

Gartin also told the committee that under the grant-in-aid system students attending "parochial schools" would be eligible for tuition grants.

DEAN JAMES ROBERT DIED IN NEW ORLEANS

Dean James M. Robert, 78, a native of St. Paul, Minn., died about 5 p. m. Monday, June 8, at Baptist Hospital, New Orleans after a brief illness.

Since retiring in 1950 as dean of the college of engineering at Tulane University, a post to which he was named in 1938, he made his home in Waveland.

Mr. Robert was a member of the recently created Hancock County Ports and Harbors Commission and of Waveland's Planning Commission.

Let One Contract Ask Other

A contract was given to Necaise and Penton for Project SAP 23 (6), between the Kiln-Picayune Highway and Mississippi Highway No. 603 known as the Dummett Line Road for 5.388 miles. The contract price was $170,785.36 and construction is to begin immediately.

The board agreed to lend Bay High School $5,021.63 for the purchase of a new high school bus. The board ordered to readvertise for bids for construction of Project No. S-1102 (1) V. It had been advertised five times without getting a successful bid.

Authorization was given to George Heitzmann, tax assessor, to appoint Linda Tomasiak as assistant in his office, replacing Mrs. Ramona Stirling.

LOCAL OPTION SEEN IN REFERENDUM
State Sen. Merle Palmer of Pascagoula said Tuesday he believes the referendum set for November will bring local option liquor to the state.

Palmer who helped write the bill, passed at the final legislative meeting Saturday, said "It has been 12 years since the last liquor referendum in Mississippi and during those years there, have been great population shifts, from rural to urban areas."

He said the rural vote has been credited with beating the issue before, adding "The people of Mississippi are realizing the hypocrisy of the present situation, which fosters the growth of out-of-state criminal elements in Mississippi that tend to break down law enforcement in all fields."

"State control is the only answer to this problem that breeds graft and corruption," he said.

He said legal liquor sales should bring in about $6 million more in taxes than present black market liquor taxes bring and could be used to upgrade the state's educational system.

Rescue Five Teenagers Chamber Makes Quarterly Report

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has undergone several changes of personnel during the last several months. In November, 1963, Mrs. Mabel Green, who for many years performed excellent service in the capacity of Secretary-Manager, tendered her resignation. Following Mrs. Green, Mrs. Charles Russ took over in January, 1964. Shortly thereafter, she resigned; in February, Caroline Kiefer was named as her replacement. Despite the many changes of office personnel, the Chamber has experienced an active year during the first five months of 1964.

The Newcomer's Committee headed by Mrs. Nelwyn Ducomb and Mrs. Virginia Wagner, have performed valuable services hosting parties for newcomers, and welcoming new families. Since we are experiencing quite an influx due to the Mississippi Test Operation Site, this is a real task, and work accomplished by this committee merits considerable credit.

Participation in the State Legislative Body visit to the Gulf Coast, with guided tour of the MTO Facility, followed by luncheon for the delegation, was lauded as one of the highlights of this visit. It was expertly handled by the Vice President, Joe Marochi.

The Chamber further hosted the largest attendance of all times at the May meeting of the Coast Council of Chambers of Commerce. Three air-conditioned transit buses were chartered and jammed with visitors for a tour of the MTO Site, and 170 guests were served at a seated dinner following. This event was spearheaded by President Powell Glass, Jr. and Vice President Joe Marochi.

Work is constant with the Public Information Service of NASA in supplying information on the area, to potential residents who will be attracted through the MTO. The Chamber of Commerce is going to press for the first time with an Area Business Listing Directory. This is the outgrowth of concerted effort by last year's President Warren Carver.

Statistical research and photography were provided for city directories for Bay St. Louis and Waveland. Industrial and Area Development Committees have been working all out. Stimulation of the area is evident in retail as well as real estate sales.

During January the combined efforts of Mrs. Polly Fagen and Powell Glass, Jr., resulted in a week of T. V. coverage over the New Orleans Station WVL Channel 4. The program included coverage of schools, panoramic views of the Hancock Area, air flights over the MTO installations, pre-school children's programs, and adlibs on the merits of the area. Tapes and films of this program were turned over to the Chamber.

Furthering educational facilities to accommodate the several thousand new families moving into Hancock County is a serious consideration of the Chamber in conjunction with School Boards. Great effort was expended by all members of the Chamber Board in promoting the passage of a $3 million sewerage, improved gas and water system bond issue instituted by the City of Bay St. Louis. A Citizens' for Progress Committee was established, with Joe Marochi named general chairman, and every member of the Chamber Board serving in designated capacities.

STUDENTS SHOULD CHECK WITH LOCAL DRAFT BOARDS
"It is most important that all students, both high school and college, check their status with their Selective Service Local Board," announced Colonel C. S. Sanders, Jr., State Director of Selective Service for Mississippi.

Many registrants during the summer vacation are prone to overlook the important fact that the Selective Service Board is reviewing the files and if they do not have the latest information on their status, it may result in their being placed in Class I-A and made available for preinduction or induction into the armed forces.

"Therefore," Colonel Sanders stated, "it is imperative that the students keep the local board properly informed of their status, regardless of whether they plan to continue in school or plan to enter a profession after finishing school."

The Director further emphasized the importance of the registrant paying a visit to his local board, due to the fact that the examination of eighteen year olds will begin July 1. If the registrant cannot show that he is still in high school or intending to enter college, or qualified for other deferment, he will be placed in Class I-A and forwarded to the armed forces for examination to determine his acceptability for induction into the armed forces. However, this does not mean that he will be inducted immediately, but will determine whether or not he should be referred to the proper authorities for assistance in obtaining corrective measures at an early age should he fall the mental test or physical examination.

The age of induction of registrants into the armed forces at this time, the State Director pointed out, is approximately twenty-two years of age, and under the present criteria and the national situation, it appears that the age of liability for induction into the armed forces will not materially change. But the State Director stated that it does not relieve the registrants of responsibility to keep their local board fully advised of any change in their status. Failure to do so could result in the registrant being declared delinquent and reported to the U. S. District Attorney. The Director advised that the vacation period is an ideal time for the registrant to set his house in order with his Selective Service Board.

COAST MUNICIPAL GROUP PLANS FOR STATE MEETING
The Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association met at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club in Bay St. Louis Monday night where they concluded discussions on next month's annual association convention which is to be held at the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi.

Bay St. Louis was host for this month's gathering of mayors, board of aldermen, other council members and their ladies.

The business session was brief, devoted mainly to a floor discussion on whether to charter buses and if so, how many, for the purpose of taking municipal officials on a tour of NASA's Mississippi Test Operations site during the convention.

Buses, it was reported, would cost in the neighborhood of $50, 100. The project was turned over to a special committee composed of officers from Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

It was also decided that one bus be chartered for the purpose of transporting officials, especially those from central and northern part of the state who have never seen the MTO site, from Biloxi to NASA on one of the free afternoons at the convention.

More than 1400 persons are registered for the convention, it was noted.

The July meeting of the Gulf Coast group will be at the convention in Biloxi, Pass Christian. Mayor Francis Hursey invited the officials to hold their August meeting in his city, ladies included.

Industrial Completes 35 Years

Monday evening, June 13, the 400 employees of Industrial Electric, Inc., together with their wives, husbands, and children, will join in a thirty-minute anniversary dinner dance to celebrate the company's birth.

The annual Anniversary dance will be held in the International Ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans. More than 1,000 guests are expected to attend.

The company's Industrial Electric Division, which manufactures electrical equipment, is located in the Industrial Electric Division building in New Orleans.

Special charter buses will transport Gulf Coast area guests to and from the party.

Monday, June 10, 1929, Edmond M. Brignac, Sr., long-time Bay St. Louis resident, founded a motor repair and rebuilding shop in New Orleans with four employees. Thirty-five years later, the small motor repair shop has grown to a large complex of industries with plants in two states, six operating divisions, more than 400 employees, and an annual payroll of more than $2,000,000.

Among the Industrial divisions is the Bay-St. Louis plant, Industrial Enameling Division, which ships its products to every state of the Union and to huge building projects in many foreign lands.

Edmond Brignac, Sr., and his family became year around residents of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi in 1944. Mr. and Mrs. Brignac are the parents of two sons and a daughter: Albert Brignac and Mrs. Don Ladner of Bay St. Louis, and Edmond Brignac, Jr., Vice-president of Industrial Electric, Inc., of New Orleans.

Edmond Brignac, Sr., is a member of the Planning and Zoning Board of Bay St. Louis and is president of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. Mr. Brignac is a director of the South Louisiana Chapter of the National Electric Contractors Association and formerly served as treasurer of the National Electric Sign Association. He is also a member of the Chamber of Commerce of the New Orleans Area, International House, Young Men's Business Club, and the Advertising Club of New Orleans, and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Bay St. Louis.

With Edmond Brignac, Sr., at Industrial's founding were A. F. Brignac, Sr., Joseph A. D'Arcangelo, and Joseph J. Muller. All three are still employees of Industrial.

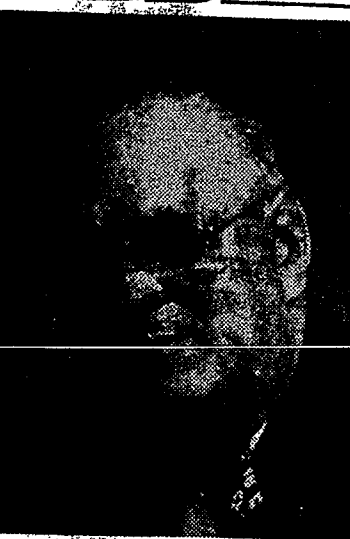

"Some years later, Industrial Electric ventured into the Neon Sign business, and has expanded into one of the largest electric sign manufacturers in the United States."

For a number of years Industrial was one of the major electrical contractors in the South. Among the projects that were completed by the electrical construction department were the wiring of the Bay St. Louis Mississippi River Bridge, wiring the huge Pan American Life Insurance and the Hibernia Bank Buildings in New Orleans and many other assignments including rural bases and schools. The installations in the Panama Canal Zone and other states.

In 1960 Industrial's Enameling Division was created to manufacture architectural porcelain enamel panels, with a dealer and sales organization serving virtually the entire country, including Alaska.

The Enameling Division was moved in February, 1962 to a new plant built in Bay St. Louis under Mississippi's BAWI Plan. Over 100 Mississippi citizens joined the Industrial family along with many others who moved to the Bay St. Louis area. The plant is producing architectural porcelain enamel, panel walls, porcelain enamel signs and other porcelain enamel products in 60,000 square feet of modern manufacturing space.

Because of increased sales of porcelain enamel products an addition to the Bay St. Louis plant will soon be erected.

EDMOND M. BRIGNAC, SR. President and Managing Partner

More than 150 people are employed in the Bay St. Louis enameling plant. Products from this plant are now being shipped as far away as Bangkok, Thailand and Krakow, Poland. Industrial Enameling is a member of the Porcelain Enamel Institute and a charter member of the Quality Verification Council of the Institute.

In 1938, Industrial established its affiliated company, Industrial Outdoor Displays, for the erection and leasing of outdoor advertising poster boards and painted spectacular displays. This company now operates approximately 1400 poster units and 600 painted units.

A unique system of painted units enables customers' advertising to be rotated to any of 75 locations throughout the city either monthly or bi-monthly. Industrial Outdoor has developed a number of new outdoor advertising techniques, notably the "Industrialite" plastic faced, interior illuminated outdoor display. Major national and local advertising accounts are served.

The Plastic Sign Division was added in 1951. It has facilities to fabricate and press form letters, shapes and characters of almost any description. Individual custom designed signs as well as multiple unit signs in production line quantities are produced for shipment throughout the United States.

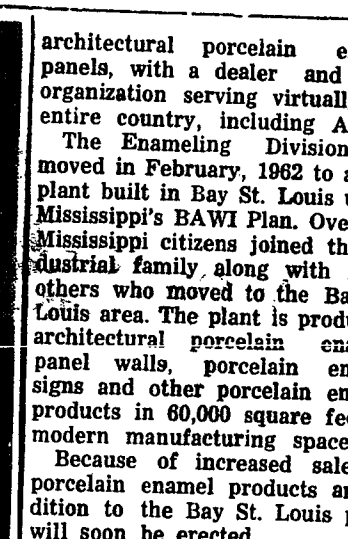

1958 saw the establishment of Industrial's Panel Board Division. It assembles panel board cabinets, switchboards and electrical control centers uses in commercial works closely with the motor repair shop, Industrial's original division.

In 1962 Industrial Outdoor Displays purchased the New Orleans plant and facilities of General Outdoor Advertising Company, substantially expanding its capacity to serve the needs of local and national advertisers.

To give Industrial sign service more efficient autonomy, Industrial Signs, Inc., was established in 1960 as an affiliated company. Its plant at 405 North Roman Street produces Neon, porcelain enamel, painted and plastic signs.

Industrial Outdoor's Highway Advertising sign service advertises services, motels, hotels, and products, and extends along major highways into many states.

LAKESHORE AND CLERMONT HARBOR NEWS

By Alina (Pee Wee) Courget

Deep sympathy is extended this week to the family and friends of Harry Grady Huchman of New Orleans and of Victor Schwartz who passed away last week while in New Orleans.

Also to the family and friends of Mrs. Maggie Helwick of Pass Christian. Mrs. Helwick is the sister of Miss Hazel Yorkborough and Mrs. Vladimir Fusch of Lakeshore.

Visiting Mrs. George Necaise, Sr., of Lakeshore over the weekend were her three married sons and families: Mr. and Mrs. George Necaise, Jr., of Avondale, La.; Dr. and Mrs. Sherman Necaise of New Orleans and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Necaise of Luling, La. Also her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edith Necaise and her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Ray Necaise.

Visiting Mrs. Henry Schwartz were her nephew Roy Bigoneski and family of New Orleans.

Get well wishes are extended this week to Mrs. Harry Baxter of Lakeshore who underwent surgery in Hotel Dieu.

Ronnie McLaughlin, John Erskin, Jr., and Joe Curet of Lakeshore were among the boys who left Sunday morning for their summer camp training of the National Guard.

Mrs. George Par, Sr., of Lakeshore returned to her home after spending a few days visiting her married children in New Orleans.

Mrs. Bert Courget was hostess to a Stanley Party in her home this past week.

Some of the out of town guests were Mrs. R. Hinson of Bay St. Louis, Miss. was the guest of Mayor John Scatfield last week. It was a pleasure to go fishing with two mayors at one time. Pate is a swell guy and loves his fishing. Hurry back Mayor.

Bobby and Carl Simpson, Jr., of Metairie, La., were over for a couple of days at the Simpson home at Pass Christian. Swimming took up most of their time but they promised to return soon and do some fishing. Both are ardent fishermen but we think Bobby loves it most.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Simpson and family were over at their home at Pass Christian over the weekend. R. L. is a pretty busy man at New Orleans but manages to get over frequently to their summer home.

They have been visitors to the Pass for quite a number of years and have many friends on the Coast.

According to information, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said Monday recent fish kills in the lower Mississippi River could not be blamed on the use of pesticides on farms along the river.

He based this conclusion on evidence at public hearings held here, in Memphis, and Baton Rouge, La. The hearings were intended to determine whether chemical pesticides, such as endrin, aldrin, and dieldrin used for crop sprays had caused the fish losses, as some groups contended.

Upon reports from Hank Evans, big fat, hard crabs are being caught out in the Bay just now. The crabs seem to be in a little deeper water. According to other reports, crabs are also being caught on the other side of the Hi-way bridge.

Won't be long now before we can get some real shrimp for bait. With the specks moving up Jordan River, some good fishing can be looked for.

A good way to keep live shrimp for fishing is to put a block of ice in the ice box, spreading a piece of cloth on the ice and laying the shrimp on the cloth. They won't stay alive but will stay green for a long time. They don't have to be alive for specks to hit them.

LOCAL SPORTSMAN

Eugene Davis

Eugene Davis, known as "Gene" to his friends, is a real sport. He has fished all his life and is a swell guy on all camping trips.

One of his favorite dishes is fried fish left over and cold made into a salad the next day. He is retired and is taking life easy after years with the Postal Service. He doesn't know how many miles he covered on the L.A. Railroad but said they were plenty.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TO CONTINUE MEETINGS DURING SUMMER

The Women's Auxiliary of Hancock General Hospital held its regular meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Leo Seale, Thursday morning, June 10, at ten o'clock. The general meeting was preceded by the regular meeting of the Board of Directors. Twenty seven members of the Auxiliary were present.

After discussion, it was decided that because of increasing activities of the Auxiliary, including the newly inaugurated "Candy Strippers" program, the Auxiliary should continue to hold its regular meetings during the summer months, and these meetings will be held at Mrs. Seale's home at North Beach, on the regular date and at the regular time.

Special emphasis was placed on the fact that the annual meeting of the State Hospital Association will be held at Biloxi with headquarters at the Buena Vista on June 22 and 23. Special programs for Auxiliaries will be given on June 23, and all members of the Auxiliary are urged to attend. Car pools for transportation to Biloxi have been arranged with Mrs. Ben Hill, Sr., Mrs. DiBrelle Jones, Mrs. Marion Giestad, and Mrs. Edwina Mogabgh furnishing cars. Any member who wishes to attend may call either Mrs. Seale at HO-75306 or one of the other ladies who are lending their automobiles.

"Candy Strippers" have been requested to act as pages on both June 22 and June 23. Two "Candy Strippers" from Hancock General Hospital will serve on Monday, June 22, and two others who will serve on Tuesday, June 23. They will be a luncheon for Auxiliary members on June 23; each lady will be responsible for her own luncheon expense.

The National Convention will be held in Chicago, Aug. 24 through Aug. 27, and plans are in the making for several members of the local Auxiliary to attend that Convention also.

Mrs. Seale stressed the fact that volunteers for Hospital duty are urgently needed during the summer months and asked any members who do not now have regular assignments to offer their services if at all possible.

A report will be heard on the State Convention.

Those who attended the convention were: Joseph Estrada, W. A. Martin, Henry Capdepon, Arthur Decluz, Q. Master, and Charles Wolfarth, commander of Barracks 2537.

Wm. A. Martin of Hancock County Barrack 2537 was elected District 3 commander.

EFFECTIVE CONSERVATION AID

Individual farmers, or groups of farmers, with conservation problems on their land need aid to plan the better use of their land. The Hancock Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Agency (ASAC) is now accepting applications for such aid.

Many times, the cost-share assistance available under the Agricultural Conservation Program makes it possible to carry out projects that farmers cannot accomplish alone. The Chairman pointed out. And, many times, pooling their own resources and the available ASAC assistance in the way a group of farmers can solve a problem that extends beyond the boundaries of a single farm.

Mr. Shaw explained that, with the ASAC program well underway, work has already been started on formulating the 1965 program which will be in effect this fall and next year. ASAC applies to farmland throughout the 10 States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. It is especially effective since it is formulated by local people to deal scientifically with local - as well as national conservation problems. Needed conservation measures are recommended by local farm leaders and planning practices or stand improvements on farms and woodlands.

It is controlling erosion of farmland - the country's most extensive conservation problem. Mechanical measures are important, and ASAC has helped farmers terrace and install other erosion control structures on millions of acres. Vegetative cover, however, is the most widely used and adapted method of controlling erosion. ASAC helps with about 20 million acres of vegetable cover establishment or improvement each year.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County at Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, until 2:00 o'clock P. M. July 17th, 1964, and shortly thereafter opened for What every Southerner should know about air conditioners...

First-when the weather bureau says its 90°-they mean 90 in the shade. Out where your air conditioner is operating it may be 30 to 25° hotter. This is where the ordinary air conditioners stop cooling to prevent their over-heating.

But, FEDDERS is stubborn. They build air conditioners to keep you cool when its 115°! Just one reason why FEDDERS cool rooms faster, keeps 'em that way!

FEDDERS is as precisely engineered as a fine watch, but as rugged as a Sherman Tank. Nothing tops 'em when there's a cooling job to be done.

BUT MOST IMPORTANT-Only FEDDERS COOLS the air just before it gets to you. Other air conditioners pull air through the coils, then through the hot fan to you. Stands to reason they have to work harder to get the job done. But FEDDERS blows the air through the COOLING COILS to you. Gives you more cooling power for the same amount of work. Smart idea-from FEDDERS.

No wonder FEDDERS is first in the South. Largest selling air conditioner for 11 straight years.

Don't you think you deserve the best air conditioner for the climate? It costs no more than an ordinary one. Make sure its FEDDERS.

Make's largest selling air conditioner-FEDDERS

STENNIS PRESENTS ARGUMENTS AGAINST CIVIL RIGHTS BILL

(By Senator John Stennis)

WASHINGTON - In a 30-minute debate here this week for a national CBS radio program with Senator Thomas McIntyre of New Hampshire I made a summary of arguments against the civil rights bill.

Among the points I presented during the debate were these:

It is easy for Northern Senators as well as agitation groups, to be missionaries a long way from home while at the same time neglecting crime and corruption at their own doorsteps.

There has been a most brazen effort here in the Senate to make this civil rights fight a sectional thing against the South.

This is not a Southern problem; it is a national problem. Senators have tried to put the heat iron to the South in this civil rights debate.

SEVENTH GRADE: Laura Frances McCants, Stephen Pindexter, Chris Walker, Clay McClelland, Bob Boyd.

EIGHTH GRADE: Claude Yarborough, Denise Toop, Nancy McDonald, George Wyatt, Steve Colby.

Presentation of diplomas was made by Rev. Charles B. Johnson. Those receiving awards were Linda Ball, Zach Butterworth, Stephen Colby, Nancy McDonald, Rosemary McFarland, Dottie Rausch, Gary Stephens, and Claude Yarborough of Bay St. Louis; Barbara Jones, Dick Weatherbee, and George Wyatt of Pass Christian; Price Gay-wolf Plaquemine, La. Rev. Charles B. Johnson gave the benediction.

(AHTNC) - Army Pvt. Earl L. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robinson, 405 Washington St., Bay St. Louis, Miss., completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training with heavy weapons at Fort Polk, La., June 5. During the training, Robinson received instruction in the use of the 61 millimeter mortar, the 4.2 inch mortar and the 106 recoilless rifle. He also received instruction in map reading, land mine warfare, communications and escape and evasion. The 21-year-old soldier entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Fort Polk. Robinson is a 1962 graduate of Valena C. Jones High School. Before entering the Army, he was employed by the Fram Chemical Corp. (U. S. Army Photo)

They have tried to ridicule and criticize the Southland, blaming it falsely for the troubles in their own areas.

During the three months we Southerners have opposed this bill we have opened the eyes of the American people to the dangers involved if this bill should become law. We have shown its weakness.

This bill would take away far more rights than it would protect. It is directed principally at the South. It is purely a political bill, put together and backed by both political parties.

This bill purports to give Negroes a better chance for jobs, but I have pointed out to the nation on the Senate floor and through radio and television debates that Mississippi has a much better record of employment for Negroes than most Northern States including all of those having FEPC laws now.

1929-1964: A Period of Industrial Growth

On the tenth of June, 1929, just four months before the start of the Great Depression, E. M. Brignac, Sr., opened a modest shop on Carondelet and St. Joseph Streets in New Orleans as an electrical motor repair company. It was called Industrial Electric, Inc. With him were A. F. Brignac, Sr., Joseph A. D'Arcangelo, Joseph J. Muller, and Charles Thornton. Four of the five are still together, and the modest motor shop has done a little growing.

Some years later, Industrial Electric ventured into the Neon Sign business, and has expanded into one of the largest electric sign manufacturers in the United States.

For a number of years Industrial was one of the major electrical contractors in the South. Among the projects that were completed by the electrical construction department were the wiring of the Huey P. Long Mississippi River Bridge, wiring the huge Pan American Life Insurance and the Hibernia Bank Buildings in New Orleans and many other assignments including naval bases and power line installations in the Carolinas and other states.

In 1946 Industrial's Enameling Division was created to manufacture porcelain enameled signs and architectural porcelain enamel panels with a dealer and sales organization serving virtually the entire country, including Alaska.

The Enameling Division was moved in February, 1962 to a new plant built in Bay St. Louis under Mississippi's BAWI Plan. Over 100 Mississippi citizens joined the Industrial family along with many others who moved to the Bay St. Louis area. The plant is producing architectural porcelain enamel, panel walls, porcelain enamel signs and other porcelain enamel products in 60,000 square feet of modern manufacturing space.

Because of increased sales of porcelain enamel products an addition to the Bay St. Louis plant will soon be erected.

More than 150 people are employed in the Bay St. Louis enameling plant. Products from this plant are now being shipped as far away as Bangkok, Thailand and Krakow, Poland. Industrial Enameling is a member of the Porcelain Enamel Institute and a charter member of the Quality Verification Council of the Institute.

In 1938, Industrial established its affiliated company, Industrial Outdoor Displays, for the erection and leasing of outdoor advertising posters and painted spectacular displays. This company now operates approximately 1400 poster units and 600 painted units. A unique system of painted units enables customers' advertising to be rotated to any of 75 locations about the city either monthly or bi-monthly. Industrial Outdoor has developed a number of new outdoor advertising techniques, notably the "Industrialite" plastic faced, interior illuminated outdoor display. Major national and local advertising accounts are served.

The Plastic Sign Division was added in 1951. It has facilities to fabricate and press form letters, shapes and characters of almost any description. Individual custom designed signs as well as multiple unit signs in production line quantities are produced for shipment throughout the United States.

In 1962 Industrial Outdoor Displays purchased the New Orleans plant and facilities of General Outdoor Advertising Company, substantially expanding its capacity to serve the needs of local and national advertisers.

To give Industrial sign service more efficient autonomy, Industrial Signs, Inc., was established in 1960, as an affiliated company. Its plant at 405 North Roman Street produces Neon, porcelain enamel, painted and plastic signs.

Industrial Outdoor's Highway Advertising sign service advertises services, motels, hotels, and products and extends along major highways into many states.

That's a good deal of growing for the first 35 years. Industrial Electric is still young, with its eyes firmly fixed on the future and continued growth.

Lang-Phillip Wedding

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the scene for the wedding of Earline Yvonne Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCortney of Memphis, Tenn., and Henry Christian Lang, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lang of this city.

Rev. Dennis Harlow officiated at the double ring ceremony on June 7, at 6:30 p. m.

The bride, given away by Lewis Cochran, brother-in-law of the groom, wore a floor length gown of poise de soie with lace appliques covered with sequins. The bodice featured a round neckline and a rose in the back at the waistline. Her headpiece was a tiny flower made of crystals and a veil of illusion. Her bouquet had an orchid in the center with fleur d'amour surrounding it.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joyce Lee Cochran, sister of the groom. She wore an aqua street length dress with a rose of the same material for her headpiece and matching shoes. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Best man was Alan Lang, brother of the groom, and usher was Barry Favre.

Mrs. Henry Lang, mother of the groom, wore a blue embroidery dress with light blue accessories. A reception for the family and friends was held at the Parish Hall.

The bride chose a pale blue suit with white accessories for the wedding trip along the Coast. Upon their return they will make their home in Lafayette, La.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cassidy of Tallahassee, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Algero announce the birth of their son, Michael Patrick, born June 3, at Hancock General Hospital. He weighed 8 pounds, 8 ounces.
